MRS. A. LEWIS, JR., GIVES A TEA

Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., was hostess on Friday afternoon at a tea given in compliment to the presidents and directors of the Hawaiian branch, Needlework Guild of America. This delightful affair took place at Laniakea and about 90 women were in attendance. Mrs. Lewis greeted her guests and when all were assembled she thanked them for the ready response with which they met her request to establish this work in Honolulu. Plans for the work of next year were talked over, all feeling that it was a charity in which every one might assist. All that is asked of the donors is that they give two articles of either clothing or for the household. When they are all collected, which is always the last week in October, a committee distributes the new garments to the different local charities. This year the work was much in the nature of an experiment and a very short time was given in which to do the work. However, the ready response from the givers, and the sincere gratitude for the recipients makes the Needlework Guild a fixture in Honolulu. It is to be hoped that each of the other islands will follow in line. It is work that does not fall heavy on anyone and is so worthy that it appeals to all.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed in the lovely grounds at Laniakea. The tea tables were pretty with pink hibiscus and pink roses.

The following is a list of the presidents and directors with the number of garments gotten by them for this year:

MRS. CHARLES CHILLINGWORTH'S INFORMAL TEA

Mrs. Charles Chillingworth made Mrs. Walter Kendall the motif for one of the prettiest teas given this season. It was at Laniakea in the pretty little open-air theater, with the guests seated informally about tea tables which were ornamented with peach blow hibiscus and pale pink asters. Mrs. Walter Kendall is a great social favorite and during her residence here made a host of friends, who are making her sojourn a very pleasurable one. While no large formal affairs have been given, she has been the honor guest at many small assemblies, and she and Mr. Kendall have enjoyed the hospitality of many friends. At this tea Mrs. Kendall sang in her usual charming manner. She possesses an unusually good voice, and while singing her personality and manner are charming. Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson sang as she always does and pleased her listeners heartily.

Those hidden by Mrs. Chillingworth to honor Mrs. Kendall were: Mrs. Walter Marfalan, Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Reynold McGrew, Mrs. George Ahlborn, Mrs. Arthur Rice, Mrs. William T. Rawlins, Mrs. Howard Bode, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. William B. Lymer, Mrs. Mark Robinson, Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. Harry Gray, Mrs. Sumner S. Paxson, Mrs. William Campbell, Mrs. John Balch, Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr., Mrs. James Haynes, Mrs. Charles Stillman, Mrs. Clarence Cunha, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Jr., Mrs. Harry Murray, Mrs. Albert N. Campbell, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. Samuel A. Walker, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer and Princess Kalaniana'ole.

One of the real pleasures of the afternoon was that which Mrs. J. A. Balch gave the assembled guests, for she played several selections in her finished style and then kindly accompanied the singers.

WASHINGTON BRIDE

News came from Washington D. C., last week of the marriage of Miss Margaret Ross, daughter of Mrs. William Ross of 3024 Clay street, to Lieutenant Charles Ostrom, U. S. A. The bride's father, the late William Ross, was in the administrative department of the Southern Pacific Company.

During September the present Mrs. Ostrom went to Washington to visit relatives and she has passed much of her time during the past few years at the capital. She was married at the home of her relatives in the East. —S. F. Chronicle, Oct. 7.

MRS. JOHN LENNON ENTERTAINS

Mrs. John Lennon entertained with a reception and tea Friday afternoon from 4 to 6, honoring her friend, Mrs. Harris G. Tower of Denver, who is a recent comer to Honolulu. The living rooms and lanais of the beautiful Lennon home were decorated with bowls of flowers and potted plants and hanging baskets, rose, pink and green dominating in the color scheme.

Tea tables were placed both inside the house and on the lawn, which overlooks the sea and Diamond Head, and where a quintet of Hawaiian girls sang Hawaiian melodies to the tinkling of ukuleles. Six young girls, two of whom were daughters of the honored guest, served iced punch, feed coffee, steaming hot tea and other refreshments not altogether suggestive of economy, although the Hoover note was struck in the delicious brown bread used in the sandwiches.

Mrs. Richard assisted Mrs. Lennon and Mrs. Tower in receiving Mrs. Archibald Young, Mrs. H. B. Restarick, Mrs. Ault, Mrs. Byron E. Noble, Mrs. J. L. Young, Mrs. S. De Freest, Mrs. Farnum, the Misses Gillet, Mrs. J. W. Caldwell, Mrs. Roderick O. Matheeson, Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. John Guild, Miss Rae, Mrs. L. P. Folsom, Mrs. Brier, Mrs. Gaylord, Mrs. Ralph Gaylord, Mrs. Wallace Farrington, Mrs. Sam Church, Mrs. Magruder, G. Maury, Mrs. R. G. Moore, Miss Appleton, Mrs. S. C. Huber, Mrs. S. B. Kemp, Mrs. Irwin Beadle, Mrs. Arthur Regarick, Miss Hartnagel, Miss E. Drummond, Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Frank Cook, Mrs. E. Melanphy, Mrs. Pentland, Mrs. H. Gooding Field, Mrs. S. T. Hill, Mrs. Lillian Bickford, Mrs. G. W. Cook, Mrs. Paul Bartlett, Mrs. Paul Knudsen, Mrs. J. H. Craig, Mrs. E. Kroll, Mrs. Tarlton, Miss Deter, Mrs. George Bustard, Mrs. W. G. Hall, Mrs. W. A. Ramsay, Mrs. G. H. Tuttle, Mrs. G. Duckworth, Mrs. Head, Mrs. Hackett, Mrs. L. Judd, Miss D. Withington, Mrs. Hausen, Miss D. Barnes, Miss E. Holmes, Miss Folsom, Miss Carter, Mrs. F. Jenkins, Mrs. Hobson, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. McKennie, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Ernst Giesecke, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Hennigan, Miss Henry, Miss Knapp, Miss McCracken, Mrs. J. Smith.

Mrs. Clarence R. Bell was a hostess on Wednesday at a bridge luncheon for eight of her friends, the occasion being the celebration of her birthday. Lovely flowers were around in quantities, the gifts of loving friends. Mrs. George M. Callender was the winner of the dainty pink lamp shade, which was the prize for the highest score at bridge. After the game a most delicious lunch was served on small tables. Mrs. Bell's guests were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Meacham, Mrs. Horace D. Bloombergh, Mrs. William H. Brown, Mrs. George M. Callender, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, and Mrs. Benjamin F. Edger.

New arrivals on the post are Capt. and Mrs. C. F. Hains and Little Miss Jeanne Hains, who reached Honolulu on the last transport from the states. Capt. and Mrs. Hains have taken the quarters in the cantonment formerly occupied by Capt. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood. Capt. Hains is in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps.

Capt. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlenberg and Capt. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbey were guests at the Moana hotel on Tuesday evening for dinner, enjoying the dancing on the lanai after dinner.

Mrs. Mathews was the hostess at a her home on Lunalilo street. In snitting tea on Tuesday afternoon at a crowd gathered on the spacious lanai and enjoyed the talk and tea while knitting. Among those present were Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Lowrey, Mrs. Albert White, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Mrs. George M. Callender, Mrs. Benjamin F. Edger, and Mrs. Horace D. Bloombergh.

Capt. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood will entertain at dinner on Sunday for Capt. and Mrs. Charles Bonesteel, Mrs. Walter S. Greacen, Misses Katherine Greacen, and Eleanor Bonesteel and Master Charles Bonesteel.

Capt. and Mrs. C. F. Hains and their small daughter were the guests of Maj. and Mrs. Frederick Hadra for several days after their arrival on the post until they could get their house in readiness for occupancy.

Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell had one table of bridge on Thursday afternoon for Mrs. George M. Callender, Mrs. Edmund R. Bell and Mrs. William H. Brown. Tea was served during the afternoon. Mrs. George M. Callender won the prize, a pair of silk embroidered Japanese sandals.

Capt. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlenberg, Lieut. Abraham Coe and Miss Isabel Baker made one of the parties who were enjoying a moonlight swim at Fort De Russy on Monday evening.

Mrs. Frederick Hadra entertained on Friday afternoon with a tea in honor of Mrs. C. F. Hains. Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell served tea, assisted by Miss Isabel Baker. Those invited to meet Mrs. Hains were Mrs. Daniel E. Gienty, Mrs. Frank C. Bolles, Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbey, Mrs. Robert H. Peck, Mrs. John Randolph, Mrs. Claire R. Bennett, Mrs. Ralph C. Hussey, Mrs. Julia E. Lohman, Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Mrs. James M. T. Pearson, Mrs. Eugene Johnson, Mrs. Edwards Sweeney, Mrs. Lou of Schofield Barracks, Mrs. Moore of Honolulu, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell and Miss Isabel Baker.

FORT SHAFTER, Oct. 20, 1917. Mrs. Walter S. Greacen and her little daughter, Katharine, from Schofield Barracks, are spending two or three weeks with Capt. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood. Capt. Greacen is away on a trip to the other islands on militia affairs and Mrs. Greacen is taking this opportunity to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Rockwood.

Capt. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbey dined informally with Capt. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlenberg on Sunday.

Master Jack Joyce Hadra celebrated his seventh birthday on Thursday very delightfully with a birthday party which Maj. and Mrs. Hadra had planned for him. The invited guests arrived about four o'clock and from then until the party broke up at five-thirty, fun was fast and furious. Master Margaret Randolph and Master Ralph Hussey were the proud winners of the effort to put the fish on the hook while they were blindfolded and were each given a very pretty prize. The birthday feast was much enjoyed. Master Jack was the recipient of many remembrances of the day. His guests were Miss Dorothy Hobbey, Miss Ruth Peck, Master Rodney Jeck, Master Bobby Peck, Master Stuart Donnan, Jr., Miss Winnie-Belle Jackson, Master Donald Jackson, Miss Elizabeth Bolles, Master Billy Bolles, Miss Margaret Randolph, Master Zeke Bolles, Master Ralph Hussey, Master Bobby Bennett, Master Buster Walters, Master James Collington, Miss Cissy Walters, Miss Alice Wilson, Miss Alberta Breitfield, Miss Lenore Ely, Master Roy Ferguson, Master John Randolph, Master Bobby Lyon, and Miss Jeanne Hains. Let Him Know You're Behind Him!

There is one who is first in our hearts this year and he is the Soldier. His work will be grim and bitter; any instant he may be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice. But we can ease his hardships, and help him meet his trials with greater fortitude if he knows we're behind him. We are! And little gifts such as the following will aid him to realize it.

These articles have been recommended by men who saw actual service on the Mexican Border. Each is something not supplied by the Government, and is not only always greatly needed—but often hard to get. Make your selections now—we will see that they are properly mailed
